

CINDY ADAMS

GLOBAL PRESIDENT, CORNERSTONE

Cindy is our Global President of our Leadership Circle Cornerstone Business which include our global business units involving Products, Certifications, and Partner Community. For over 30 years she has been deeply involved in organizational transformation, leadership development, and whole systems change.

Cindy combines her deep understanding of leadership, leadership development, adult stage development, and business performance to guide others in what matters most to them and to the organization. There is a great need for elevated, rare, extraordinary leadership in the time in which we live and Cindy takes joy in building capacity and sustainability for extraordinary breakthrough results, meaningful contribution, and personal fulfillment. As a fellow traveler on the leader's path, both personally and professionally, she is familiar with the challenges that leaders face, and the leadership capacity and mindset required to lead in the adaptive challenges inherent in today's tumultuous conditions and threats.

As a Founding Partner, Consultant, and leader at Leadership Circle, Cindy has worked with hundreds of leaders from a wide array of businesses and industries including Healthcare Systems, Honda International, Pixar, Quicken Loans, Packsize International, Yale University, VF Corporation, and many others.

She recently conducted research on women and men leaders and comparisons for effectiveness to bring in a new conversation around what is needed now! The research provides insight into the performance of women and men leaders and their similar, yet unique, journey toward wholeness and achieving very high levels of leadership effectiveness. She actively engages in mentorship for leaders, both women and men, to raise the conscious practice of leadership and capability for a far more complex, agile, and volatile environment than at any other time in history.

Cindy holds a bachelor's in Business Administration and a Master of Arts in Management: Human Resources and Organizational Behavior.

Cindy and her husband own many businesses together Cindy is curious and passionate about people, and ensuring space for the humanity in all of us. She enjoys a good outdoor run, wildlife, and dramatic mountains, a beautiful lake waterski, and the joy that comes with spending time with the most precious thing - a growing family!