CLA – COLLECTIVE LEADERSHIP ASSESSMENT

Design Criteria

1. Measures Key Leadership Competencies
2. Assesses Belief Systems and Assumptions
3. Points to Stage of Adult Development
4. Integrated Theoretical Framework
5. Organises Results – so as to bring key developmental opportunities to the surface.

Benefits

CLA measures the current leadership effectiveness and the desired leadership effectiveness:

Respondents fill out the same 62 questions twice – once for the way things are, and once for the way they want them to be. When results are displayed, the gap between current reality and desired leadership effectiveness is highlighted. This focuses the conversation immediately on those aspects of the leadership effectiveness that most need to be addressed.

In addition, CLA measures 31 dimensions of leadership effectiveness:

These 31 dimensions are organised into 8 summary dimensions and displayed in a circular format. The eight dimensions are further summarised into two measures of overall organisational health. Altogether, when you add it all up, The Collective Leadership Assessment provides 41 different dimensions through which to understand your current and desired leadership effectiveness.

Creative Leadership Competencies

The Creative Leadership Competencies measure key leadership behaviours and internal assumptions that lead to a high fulfilment, high achievement organisational effectiveness.

The Relating Dimension measures the extent to which leaders in your organisation relate to others in a way that brings out the best in people, groups and organisations. It measures how well the leadership effectiveness of the organisation builds quality relationships, fosters teamwork, collaborates, develops people, involves people in decision making and planning, and demonstrates a high level of interpersonal skill.

The Self-Awareness Dimension measures leadership's orientation to ongoing professional and personal development, as well as the degree to which inner self-awareness is expressed through high integrity leadership. It is a measure of emotional and interpersonal maturity. It also measures the extent to which the leadership encourages the kind of personal/professional development that results in personal mastery.

The Authenticity Dimension measures your leaders' capability to relate to others in an authentic, courageous, and high integrity manner. It measures the extent to which their leadership is authentic—not masked by organisational politics, looking good, winning approval, etc. It also measures their ability to take tough stands, bring up the un-discussables (risky issues the group avoids discussing), to openly deal with relationship problems, and share personal feelings/vulnerabilities about a situation. Courage in the workplace involves authentically and directly dealing with risky issues in one-to-one and group situations.

The Systems Awareness Dimension measures the degree to which your leaders' awareness is focused on whole system improvement, sustainable productivity, on community welfare (the symbiotic relationship between the long-term welfare of the community and the interests of the organisation) and on customer focus.

The Achieving Dimension measures the extent to which leaders offer visionary, authentic and high achievement leadership. It measures the extent to which leaders encourage a focus on achieving end results that are at once purposeful and strategic. It measures the creative use of power and effective decision-making.

Reactive Leadership Styles

The Reactive Leadership Styles measure ways of leading that have significant strengths associated with them, but also reflect inner beliefs and behaviour that limit effectiveness, authentic expression, and empowering leadership.

The Controlling Dimension measures the extent to which leaders establish a sense of personal worth through task accomplishment and personal achievement. It measures the extent to which leaders push themselves and others hard and use overly driven and aggressive tactics to get others to do what they want.

The Protecting Dimension measures how leaders act to protect themselves and establish a sense of worth/security by emotionally withdrawing and remaining distant, hidden, aloof, cynical, superior, and/or rational. This stance is often intellectually bright, but overly critical and cold.

Collective Leadership Assessment Overview

The Complying Dimension measures the extent that leaders act in ways that are overly conservative, cautious, and/or polite. It measures the extent to which leaders get a sense of self-worth and security by complying with the expectations of others rather than acting on what they intend and want.

Summary Measures

The Summary Measures bring everything together. They summarise the above into a few useful measures.

Creative-Reactive Scale reflects the degree of balance between the creative dimensions and the reactive dimensions. The percentile score here gives you a sense of how your leadership effectiveness compares to that of other organisations. It measures the amount of energy your organisation puts into reactive versus creative behaviour. It suggests the degree to which your leadership, relationships and goal-oriented behaviours are coming out of a creative or reactive orientation. It also suggests the degree to which leaders' self-concepts and inner motivations come from within or are determined by external expectations, rules, or conditions.

Relationship-Task Balance measures the degree of balance your organisation shows between the achievement competencies and the relationship competencies. It is a measure of the over, under, or balanced development of either half of the equation (the people half or the task half) that makes for great leadership. Good balance results in high percentile scores.
